Orange Rosemary G&T

MEDITERRANEAN TONIC WATER

In Spain, fragrant rosemary and juicy oranges grow side by side along the sun-soaked southern coast. Their flavors make a vibrant pairing in the glass, so we've brought them together here with Tanqueray No. Ten, a gin distilled with whole lemons, limes, and grapefruits.

DIFFICULTY: 2

GLASSWARE: COPA

INGREDIENTS

SERVES 1

Fever-Tree Mediterranean Tonic Water	6.8 oz
Tanqueray No. Ten Gin	1 oz
Cointreau or Grand Marnier	0.5 oz
Orange Peel	1
Rosemary Sprig	1

METHOD

Step One: Pour the gin into a balloon glass filled with ice cubes.
Step Two: Add the Cointreau or Grand Marnier.
Step Three: Top with Fever-Tree Mediterranean Tonic Water.
Step Four: Squeeze the orange peel over the glass to release its oils, then drop it in as a garnish. Finish with a small rosemary sprig.

When adding herbs to drinks, keep their intensity in mind. You can be generous with mint, but rosemary is more pungent and should be used sparingly.
